Membership Advisory

Group Payments for License Renewal No Longer Accepted

Beginning with the 2014 renewal period the College will no longer accept group license renewal payments from employers for their employees. Members are asked to renew their licenses themselves and then seek reimbursement from their employers. Another option would be if employers are willing to issue individual cheques for each Psychologist employee separately the College would accept this. However, this is an option only if the entire amount is being covered by the employer as opposed to a partial payment due to a reimbursement cap. This change was implemented by Executive Council motion, and was made due to multiple difficulties in the past with group payment submissions which had negative repercussions for members.

The deadline for license renewal is December 1st of each calendar year for the subsequent practice year. A late fee of $10.00/day is levied for fees received after December 1st to a maximum of $200.00 per member.
