Halifax, Nova Scotia

Pre-conference Workshop Announcement:

Strength at Home: A Trauma-Informed, Evidence Based IPV Offender Group Intervention

Dr. Casey Taft

The Canadian Domestic Violence Conference 6 is pleased to announce our first pre-conference workshop to be held March 3-4, 2020.

This workshop will provide training in Strength at Home, a trauma-informed, evidence-based IPV intervention. On the first day, Dr. Taft will discuss how trauma may influence the ways in which we process social information and other trauma-related risk factors. Strength at Home is then described, as is the scientific evidence for its use. Strategies for motivating clients to work on issues related to IPV, developing a positive therapeutic relationship, and building a cohesive group environment are then discussed. On the second day, the facilitator will cover the intervention sessions in detail, using videos and role plays to illustrate strategies.

Casey T. Taft, Ph.D., is a staff psychologist at the National Center for PTSD in the VA Boston Healthcare System, and Professor of Psychiatry at Boston University School of Medicine. He was the 2009 Linda Saltzman Memorial Intimate Partner Violence Researcher Award winner from the Institute on Violence, Abuse, and Trauma. He has been Principal Investigator on several funded grants focusing on understanding and preventing partner violence, is on the Editorial Boards of five journals, and has published over 100 peer-reviewed academic articles and an American Psychological Association book on trauma-informed partner violence intervention.
