

Silver Sponsor: Integrated Neuroscience Services

INTEGRATED
NEUROSCIENCE SERVICES

Integrated Neuroscience Services (INS) was founded to enhance the treatment outcomes for neurofeedback clinicians who treat patients with diagnosable conditions. INS achieves this goal by offering complete QEEG analyses and interpretations, coherence and connectivity analyses, spike/seizure analyses, neuropsychological data review, online consultations, online supervision, and customized treatment recommendations.

Dr. Anne Stevens and Dr. Robert Coben, the co-directors, have over 40 years of combined clinical practice and have helped over 20,000 of their own patients. The pair have an expertise in EEG and QEEG data processing, clinical competency, and neuropsychology. They focus on utilizing information to facilitate the clinician's understanding of their patients' conditions.

INS will be at ISNR again this year, as a Silver Level Sponsor, with Dr. Stevens and Dr. Coben participating in several presentations, workshops, and small group discussions. They start off the pre-conference on October 17th by facilitating a workshop about Four Channel Multivariate Coherence Training. They will hold another workshop on October 19th to go over Connectivity Assessment and Training in Developmental Trauma. Dr. Stevens and Dr. Coben are scheduled to present The Impact of Using Effective Connectivity Measures (Granger Causality) in Guiding Neurofeedback at 9:10am on October 18th. Their last presentation on October 20th at 8am to discuss Multivariate Coherence Training for Developmental Trauma and lead a small group discussion at 2:30pm over Advances in Coherence Based Neurofeedback Training.
